The best training available on critical, real-world issues.

OpenText EnCase training has been awarded the 'SC Award for Best Computer Forensic Solution' for over 10 years in a row.

The ever-evolving current cyber landscape presents layered challenges to every business and organization. Security breaches are on the increase and organizations must ensure their investigative staff is properly trained to handle the continually evolving landscape of computer investigations.

OpenText Learning Services helps organizations keep law enforcement investigators and IT professionals current in their EnCase knowledge and skills using OpenText™ EnCase™ Technology. Mastering computer investigation methodology as well as the use of EnCase software during complex computer examinations helps organizations reduce cost and operational risk while providing an invaluable service towards societal good.

Corporations and government agencies use OpenText™ EnCase™ software to search, collect, preserve, and analyze digital information to meet their business needs. EnCase world-class training empowers users to meet these challenges.

Choose the package that suits the organization's needs
